RESRARCH POSITIONS IN CHINA

Two Talented Young Scientist (TYSP) positions are available for candidates of Afro-Asian countries only to work for in the field of plant ecology and botany under Prof. J.H.Hao, Changshu Institute of Technology, Suzhou, Jiangsu Province, China. The positions are funded by Ministry of Science and Technology (MOST), China.

Position 1: Research Associate (Plant Ecology)
Organization: Changshu Institute of Technology, Suzhou
URL: http://www.tysp.org/English/PositionDetails/47c3039c-007b-4d10-b34a-705c0bd3fc0c

Project Description:
To study ecological traits of invasive alien plants in China, specially to compare the differences in reproductive ecology including seed germination, pollination, and breeding system of congeneric alien plants differing in invasiveness. To write and publish papers in peer-reviewed international journals as first author or co-author.

Position 2: Research Associate (Botany)
Organization: Changshu Institute of Technology, Suzhou
URL: http://www.tysp.org/English/PositionDetails/6d49aa12-22dd-4598-befc-5dad5a338e04

Project Description:
To study on the function traits of invasive alien plants in China, especially the reproductive traits associated with invasiveness. To do the pollination experiment, observe the embryo development, and identify the congeneric alien plants. To write and publish papers in peer-reviewed international journals as first author or co-author.

Further Details:
Interested applicants are suggested to contact Prof J.H.Hao over email and discuss application procedure before making formal application.

For detailed advertisement please visit TYSP website
http://www.tysp.org/English/PositionDetails/47c3039c-007b-4d10-b34a-705c0bd3fc0c

OR CONTACT PROF J.H.HAO BY EMAIL: jhhao@cslg.edu.cn