The Department of Plant Sciences at the University of Oxford can support the best early career researchers to apply for an independent research fellowship such as:

• BBSRC Discovery Fellowship
• BBSRC David Phillips Fellowship
• Royal Society University Research Fellowship
• NERC Independent Research Fellowship
• ERC Starting Grants.

We welcome Interest from early career researchers in all areas of plant biology, including those at interdisciplinary boundaries with the physical or medical sciences that may draw on the outstanding breadth of Oxford’s research environment. There is an annual deadline to receive information from potential candidates for these post-doctoral fellowships. To express your interest, please email a two-page research plan and your CV to fellows@plants.ox.ac.uk Please send your details by Friday 16 March, 2018. See also www.plants.ox.ac.uk